

Wendy Towers Joins UM CMG – Neurosurgery

Team Strength

University of Maryland Community Medical Group (UM CMG), has announced the addition of nurse practitioner Wendy Towers. Towers specializes in the diagnosis and treatment of a wide range of neurosurgical conditions, including: brain tumors, spinal tumors, pituitary tumors, degenerative spine disease, including decompression and fusion, hydrocephalus, and carotid artery disease.

An employee of Shore Regional Health for more than 30 years in the surgical department, with more than five of those years working as Dr. Kurtom's RN first assistant, Towers graduated from Macqueen Gibbs Willis School of Nursing and obtained her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Wilmington University. She earned a Master's of Science in Nursing with a focus in Adult Gerontology Acute Care Nurse Practitioner from Walden University.

"We are thrilled to have Wendy join the skilled team at UM CMG's Neurosurgery practice on the Shore," comments Michele Wilson, chief operating officer for UM CMG. "Wendy brings a unique set of skills, along with a track-record providing compassionate care that will serve our neurosurgery patients on the Shore."
