

JULY 2021

We've picked a DAISY!

Shannon proudly poses with her well-deserved DAISY Award.

University of Maryland St. Joseph Medical Center is proud to present the DAISY Award to Palliative Care Nurse Practitioner Shannon Nagy, NP.

Shannon was nominated by Carol, a patient's family member, for the outstanding care and support she provided during a most difficult time:

TRULY, IT WAS HARD to pick one nurse or practitioner to nominate. Everyone we encountered was exceptionally compassionate and caring and made my mother's visit as special as possible under the circumstances.

That being said, we met with Shannon several times over the course of my mother's stay to discuss her ongoing care and comfort. Shannon was exceptionally caring and treated her as if she were her own mother.

Shannon also helped our entire family to better navigate our mother's last days. She is full of love, faith, joy and humor...all of which helped us tremendously.

Thanks to her, we had some amazing days together with our mother during her last times with us.

We are forever grateful. Thank you, Shannon.

The DAISY Award®

celebrates nurses who provide extraordinary, compassionate and skillful care every day.

To learn more & to nominate a deserving nurse, visit umstjoseph.org/DAISY.